

St Rumbold's Tower

Wherever you are in the city, you will always be able to spot St. Rumbold's tower.

But the trek to the top of the tower can be quite an expedition as it is 97 metres high! Catch your breath in one of the six tower chambers where you can see plenty of amazing things. As parents learn more about the history of the building children can have fun and search for objects on the various floors.

Once you have made it to the top however, the amazing view from the skywalk will make up for the effort. Look well and you may even spot the Atomium or the Cathedral of Antwerp.
